

Hilscher Hired as Communications and Programs Coordinator

August 24, 2022, 3:00 pm | Haley Jones

URBANDALE, Iowa – Ellie Hilscher has joined the North Central Poultry Association as the communications and programs coordinator.

Ellie will be assisting with a variety of North Central Poultry Association and Iowa Egg Council initiatives, including events, member communications, social media and websites.

Hilscher was born in Overland Park, Kansas and moved to Waukee, Iowa when she was five years old. She attended Waukee High School and graduated from Drake University in May of 2020 with a B.A. in Digital Media Production and History.

“We are excited to have Ellie join our team! She is enthusiastic and eager to serve our members in Iowa and Minnesota. Ellie looks forward to meeting many members during the upcoming Fall Festival and Annual Meeting.” Shared Kevin Stiles, Executive Director of North Central Poultry Association and Iowa Egg Council.

Hilscher received a bachelor’s degree in Digital Media Production and History from Drake University.

“I grew up with a love of working with horses and worked at a barn as a stable hand for many years. Working as a stable hand gave me an understanding and appreciation of all the hard work farmers do,” Ellie said. “I enjoy visiting small towns with my family and attending farmers’ markets in Iowa. I am delighted to work with a wonderful team who are passionate about what they do!” Shared Hilscher.

###

The North Central Poultry Association’s mission is to “actively raise confidence in the poultry community through leadership, support, advocacy and education in Iowa and Minnesota”

For more information on the North Central Poultry Association, please visit the website at <https://www.ncentralpoultry.com/>

